

Lama Zopa Rinpoche's Pledge to Teach Lamp on the Path to Enlightenment

Two days ago what I thought was that I'm very interested to ignorantly go through the commentary on the Lamp of the Path to Enlightenment here at Kadampa Center. I thought to come here every year to continue this teaching and to finish it, maybe in one or two years, something like that. I thought to come one time every year and go through this teaching, for reasons of auspiciousness. This is Lama Atisha's unbelievably great teaching that eliminated all the wrong concepts that were happening at one time in Tibet.

... Today it didn't happen to start, but because I got this inspiration to finish this Lamp of the Path to Enlightenment, this unbelievably precious teaching, my wish is that every year - I can't say every year but this is my wish - for one or two weeks to go over this commentary. I thought to do that.

Colophon: Lama Zopa Rinpoche, Kadampa Center, North Carolina, USA, 2008. Edited by Kendall Magnussen. Extracted from LYWA Archive # 1723001dvd_08.